

College of the Rockies International Student Excellence Scholarships

College of the Rockies International Student Excellence Scholarships are open to international students attending College of the Rockies and are planning to continue studying in University Studies, Business, Hospitality, Tourism, or other programs as approved by the Awards Committee. Students enrolled in an online only program will also be considered. A maximum of five, $2,000 scholarships will be awarded to successful applicants for tuition. Assessments for awards are considered on academic merit, community involvement, and an evaluation of performance from one of your current instructors.

Eligibility

To compete for a College of the Rockies International Student Scholarship, applicants must:

- Have International Student status (not Permanent Resident or Canadian Resident)
- Have completed at least one semester and are currently enrolled in second semester at COTR
- Have appropriate English and academic prerequisites for chosen program of study
- Student must be currently enrolled full time (minimum 60% course load) and regularly attending and participating in classes
- Student must be physically returning to College of the Rockies in full-time studies (minimum 60% course load) for the 2021-2022 academic year (September to August) to be eligible. On-line students will be considered if the program is available only on-line.

Selection
